SOVIET SEEKING TO GAIN CONTROL OF DARDANELLES

bers of the United Nations Security Council, commission investigating Greek border incidents are accused of using "stalling tactics" to delay the investigations, who are expected to report in mid-April.

By implication Russia also is accused of delaying the calling of an international meeting, in which the United States would participate, for revision of the Montreux convention. It is this agreement that gives Turkey sole control of the Dardanelles and which the "Big Three" at Potsdam agreed should be revised.

Since Potsdam conversations have been going on by the "Big Three" with Turkey, with Russia demanding that the straits be controlled by the Black Sea states—thus eliminating the United States, Britain, France and other major powers, Russia also demands to share the fortifications of the straits.

Time for Conference

Both the United States and the United Kingdom, the documents relate, are now of the view that the direct discussions envisaged at Potsdam have taken place.

The next step, it is contended, is that the international conference should now be held.

"There the matter rests," one document says, "The Turks remain adamant against any revision impairing their sovereignty over the straits, while the Soviets appear still to be determined to participate in the control and defense of the area."

AID TO GREECE DOES NOT MEAN SENDING TROOPS

ism" project, reiterated that the United States does not intend to send troops to Greece or Turkey or to "underwrite" British obligations or policy.

He emphasized anew that President Truman's proposal should lead to peace rather than to war.

The acting secretary appeared before senate foreign relations committee, Clayton, in charge of economic affairs, gave the house foreign affairs committee a breakdown showing that the 300 million dollars or Greece would be divided evenly between military and civilian assistance.

Acheson's statement on curtailing aid was in apparent reply to congressional critics who charge that the Greek government under King George is "reactionary" and who seek assurance that U. S. funds will not be used to bolster "Rightist" control.

STALLED AUTO CAUSES DEATH OF TRAINMEN

his wife, Mary, 35, of South Holland, Ill., leaped to safety as the train approached.

Veenstra said he was unable to explain why his automobile stalled on the crossing.

More than 600 feet of rails were ripped up as the train jumped the track and overturned.

The right-of-way was blocked for several hours after the crash as wrecking crews attempted to right the overturned locomotive and cars.

The Dixie Flyer, crack Florida-bound train of the C. and E. I., was delayed for more than two hours at Chicago.

REDUCTION OF ALLIED FORCES MARSHALL'S AIM

parleys in an effort to reconcile conflicting views on the future of Germany. The Big Four principals resume formal council sessions tomorrow.

List Main Points

The purpose of the special coordination committee—on which Lieut. Gen. Lucius D. Clay, American occupation chief in Europe, represents the United States—is to try to settle the main points on agreement or disagreement of the Big Four.

Meanwhile, there is a growing belief in American delegation circles that Russia's reparations demands represent the key to success or failure of the conference. If the Soviets will agree to reduce their demands to what the western powers consider a reasonable level, it is believed there is a fair chance of getting agreement on Germany's economic and political future.

However, there is little hope of success seen if the Soviets insist upon anything like a half-billion dollars worth of reparations annually, as they presently ask for a 20-year period.

Oppose Financing Reparations

American and British delegation quarters just do not believe it possible to get anything like that amount out of Germany unless the U. S. and Britain dump money into the country to finance industrial recovery.

Both Marshall and British Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin are adamantly opposed to financing heavy German reparations payments to Russia.

The present economic crisis in Russia, where the five-year plan reportedly is falling behind schedule in regard to machine tools and consumer goods, is said to be responsible for the Soviet insistence upon the half-billion annual figure.

Though these Russian fears that reduction of this amount would endanger seriously its five-year plan, conference circles believe that the Soviets will have to arrange a working agreement with the other three Allied powers.

Such agreement on economic unification probably would be necessary for the Russians to continue enjoying receipt of even some two or three hundred million annually, as the reparations found in their zone seems to be drying up.

W. C. T. U. AND L. T. L.

Wayne Union

Members of Wayne W. C. T. U. met Thursday for an all-day meeting at the Harmony Baptist church with the Ladies Missionary society.

Sewing was the pastime of the day with a delicious tureen dinner being served at noon.

Mrs. Herman Jones, director of temperance and missions, presented the following program to thirty members and guests. Opening hymn, "Some Glad Day", devotions led by Mrs. Joseph Cowan and Mrs. John Henderson followed by a season of prayer by several members; and responsive reading entitled "Total Abstinence of the Bible" led by Mrs. Floyd Worrell.

Mrs. Jones then introduced the president of the missionary society, Mrs. Joseph Cowan; and president of W. C. T. U., Mrs. Edna Houk, and told of the purpose of the meeting and qualifications to be a Light Line Union, "A Temperance Year in Europe" was given by Mrs. Edward Beltz. "Churches Aroused on the Growing Problems of the Liquor Increase" by Mrs. Earl Collins; "One Place Where Conditions Are Better" by Mrs. Herman Jones; and duet, Mrs. George Bintrim and Rev. Earl Collins.

Mrs. Tessie Beltz told the group of a Christian obligation as a citizen and gave a humorous poem entitled "A Monkey's Viewpoint". Mrs. H. C. Boyer presented "Does Your Neighbor Know" and Mrs. Edna Houk, "The Amount of Local Option Territory in 1946".

Guest speaker, Mrs. F. J. Fox, gave "The Future of Repeal" given by Sam Morris in a coast to coast broadcast last January. She closed by reading some of the replies received by the liquor industries.

It was voted to have a Hospitality Tea at Slippery Rock church on Thursday, April 10. The union is sponsoring a poster contest in the seventh grade of Wayne school. Prizes will be awarded to three winners.

A delegation is planning to attend the Bi-County Institute next Thursday at Sharon. Two new members were received, Mrs. J. R. Hogue and Mrs. Rebecca Houk.

Time and place of the next meeting will be announced later.

East Brook Union

East Brook WCTU was entertained Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. Frank Waddington, East Brook. Meeting was opened by group singing.

After Mrs. Andrew Temple, leader, using as her theme "Right Use Of Our Bodies", read the scripture, Miss Grace Kerr opened a season of sentence prayers. Mrs. Hugh Snodgrass conducted a health and medical quiz with the following taking part: Miss Grace Kerr, Mrs. Harry Kelley, Mrs. Jennie Martin, Mrs. John Young, Mrs. Frank Burnside, Mrs. Scott Kirk, Mrs. F. J. Fox, Mrs. Clarence Aiken and Mrs. Charles Black.

Mrs. J. F. Fox, county WCTU president, and Mrs. Clarence Aiken, past president of Frances Willard Union, both of New Castle, were special guests. Mrs. Fox, in a few well chosen remarks, told of the activities of the WCTU and the part that our local union should take in these.

On March 27 the Bi-County Institute will be held in the First Methodist church of Sharon. Mrs. John Young, soldier and sailor director, reported a box was being packed with many useful gifts for Deshon hospital. Prayer offered by Mrs. Hugh Snodgrass closed the meeting.

During the social period a delicious lunch was served by the hostess, assisted by Patty Waddington and Mrs. Kirk.

Reports showing that the Red set for the county, is a fine tribute to the people of the county and those engaged in heading and working in the campaign. Lawrence county takes its place as one of the leaders in the state in this record in the campaign.

Somewhere in this vicinity is a person who has a large roll of screening, which is the property of the Lawrence County Council, Inc., Boy Scouts of America. It had been given to the council by John P. Della, local building supply dealer, and Thomas G. Allen, scout executive, had taken it out of the trunk of his car late Saturday afternoon and laid it on the lawn next door to his home at 507 Leasure avenue, while he did another errand which necessitated use of the trunk. When he returned an hour later, it was gone. He is hopeful that the finder, on learning to whom the roll belongs, will return it, as it was to be used to screen the dining room at the Boy Scout camp.

Construction work on large additions to the Shenango Pottery on Grant street, under way for months, are nearing completion. The addition on the south side of the building is completed so far as the exterior is concerned, and work is being speeded on the exterior construction of the addition to the northern end of the plant.

One of the first signs of spring, besides the rain, (crocus weather), is that one of Pa' News' girls noticed a hop load, probably the first out of hibernation, along the Harbor road early Monday morning.

PRE-NUPTIAL EVENT FOR VIRGINIA HANNA

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Martin of R. D. 1, Edenburg, entertained a group of friends and relatives in their home Saturday evening at a lovely pre-nuptial shower in honor of Miss Virginia Hanna, a bride-elect of April 2.

As a special feature of the evening a wagon ride through the country was enjoyed, also games. Later a tempting luncheon was served by the hostess with Mrs. J. K. Hanna and Miss Nettie Hanna assisting. Tiny pink parasols were used as favors.

At an appointed time a large array of beautiful and useful gifts of a miscellaneous nature were presented to the honor guest for use in her future home.

An open church ceremony in the Second United Presbyterian church on Wednesday, April 2, is planned for Miss Hanna, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Hanna, 308 Northview avenue, when she and William H. Davis, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Davis, 924 Hazel street, will be united in marriage.

STATE FEDERATION TO MEET MAY 6-8

Fiftieth annual convention of the Pennsylvania Federation of Women's clubs will be held at Buck Hill Falls May 6, 7 and 8 in the Buck Hill Falls Inn. Clubs of the northeastern district will be the hostess clubs.

Mrs. Paul Koenig of Spring Grove, preside, of the state federation, will preside, and Mrs. J. Stewart Williams of Kingston, vice president in the northeastern district and legislative chairman of the Pennsylvania federation, who is the presidential nominee of the Pennsylvania Federation of Women's clubs for the 1947-50 term of office, has been asked to serve as general chairman.

The complete slate of officers has been announced by Mrs. James A. Shoop of Reading, chairman of the nominating committee.

Mrs. George E. Parfitt of Tarentum is the nominee for vice president residing in the southwestern district to which clubs of this district belong.

Other nominees are: first vice president at large, Dr. Carrie Jones Schaaf of Erie; second vice president at large, Mrs. Helen Reiff of Lansburg; for vice president residing in northeastern district, Mrs. LeRoy Koehler of Stroudsburg; vice president residing in southeastern district, Mrs. Richard S. Landis of Morrisville; vice president residing in north central district, Mrs. A. G. Barrett of Coudersport; vice president residing in south central district, Mrs. J. Melvin Stewart of Harrisburg; vice president residing in northwestern district, Mrs. Virginia Loveland Miles of Bradford; secretary, Mrs. James Muffy of Lewisburg; and for treasurer, Mrs. Harry S. Coates of Rochester.

Reservations for the convention are in charge of Mrs. Leroy J. Koehler, 750 Bryant street, Stroudsburg, president of the Monroe County federation, who is acting as chairman of the housing committee.

VOGAN CLASS HAS YEARLY ELECTION

Members of the Vogan class of Highland U. P. church gathered for their last social assembly in the home of Miss Shirley Cartwright, of Sumner avenue.

Officers named for the coming year include the following: president, Miss Jane Walls; vice-president, Miss Jean Book; secretary, Miss Nora Hodge; and treasurer, Miss Norma Nixon.

The playing of recordings was enjoyed. Later a tasty repast was served by Miss Cartwright and co-hostess, Miss Temoy McFate.

'AFTER THEATER' PARTY FOR CAST

Cast of the Ne-Ca-Hi senior class play "Come Over To My House" and guests were entertained after the play Friday evening in the home of Miss Audrey Mooney, Walmo.

Music and dancing, with special guitar music by Bob Oesterling, furnished entertainment for the group of 22 in the basement recreation room and hot dogs, milk shakes and pop were served.

Among the special guests was Miss Clara Hartsuff, director of the play.

WELFARE GROUP TO SEW AT HOSPITAL

Weekly sewing at Jameson Memorial hospital Wednesday morning will be in charge of the Welfare department of Woman's club.

Hours are 9 a. m. to noon in the hospital solarium and Mrs. R. F. Conway, department chairman, has asked that members of Woman's club who have not attended one of these weekly sewings, try to go to this one as there is much work to be done on supplies for the hospital.

RETORT-MINETT ENGAGEMENT NEWS

Mr. and Mrs. Domenick Retort, 828 Harrison street, announce the engagement of their daughter, Dorothy Bernadine Retort to Raymond Charles Minnett, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Minnett, of R. D. 2, Ellwood City.

The engagement will terminate in a July wedding.

C. D. Of A. Court

Catholic Daughters of America, Court Teresa Irene No. 231, will have a meeting this evening at 8:30 o'clock in the St. Mary's church auditorium. Grand regent, Mrs. Jessie Stenger will be in charge.

Section Two

Members of Section Two will gather Wednesday, March 26, for a one o'clock tureen luncheon in the First Christian church.

C. B. Club To Meet

C. B. club will meet Wednesday evening in the home of Mrs. Paul Smith, English avenue.

EVER WONDER HOW YOU MIGHT SPEND A MILLION DOLLARS A DAY?

During 1946, The Equitable Society distributed 287 million dollars in benefits to policyholders and their families—an average of more than a million dollars for each workday in the year.

What better use could you make of such a huge sum of money than to make it serve some basic human need... to help keep a family together when tragedy strikes, to send a child to college or start a son in business, to assure financial independence to someone in the twilight years of life?

The 287 million dollars paid out by The Equitable Society during 1946 was used for just such purposes as these. Widows, children and other beneficiaries, for instance, received 101 million toward their support. Another 35 million was paid out as retirement income. Through Group Insurance

What Kind Of Germany?

The Moscow conference has set up four committees to study as many aspects of the indivisible problem of Germany. They are:

- Political structure.
- Territorial readjustments.
- Economy and reparations.
- Disarmament and demilitarization.

The economic problems of Germany, which promise to dominate the sessions of the Allied ministers, are inextricably linked to the problems of the nation's political future. The fundamental question is how to assure the economic unity of Germany, generally agreed to be necessary for its revival as a modern industrial nation, yet prevent the establishment of a highly centralized administrative system which could be used by a militant government for renewed aggression.

The United States and Britain favor setting up a federation composed of democratically-elected governments of states. These would delegate only certain powers to a central administration, notably with respect to economic activities, retaining all other authority. France also advocates a loose confederation which might be reconciled with the Byrnes-Marshall-Bevin formula.

But the Russians insist on a unitary centralized administration. Their motive may be defined as twofold: They might be able to control such a single state more readily than a group of practically-autonomous provinces. They believe that thereby they would be able to siphon off huge reparations from the western zones, from which they now are barred.

Physical occupation of this western industrial heart of Germany constitutes a powerful bargaining leverage in the hands of Secretaries Marshall and Bevin. Molotov may bluff and feint, but the western Allies are sitting in on this conference with a fistful of aces. From various indications, the economy of Russia is limping badly for lack of products and fuel that can be obtained from an area like Western Germany.

And from certain other indications, it is plain that Marshall and Bevin intend to trade favors here only in return for real Russian concessions toward peace, not only in Germany, but elsewhere.

Spring Showers—Disaster

Spring, with its birds, and flowers, and budding trees. Spring with the gentle showers, and soft clouds of our long winter's dream. Spring, with floods and disasters! It is an odd balance of nature that gives man all the pleasures of spring and then throws in such catastrophes to even things up. Because somewhere in the northern half of the world within the next few weeks the rains will swell the stream and brooks which feed the larger rivers, man will lose life and property in large quantities. A quick glance at the history of such disasters seems in order.

Tragic floods and inundations are nearly countless in man's history. The list, according to the American Encyclopedia, includes 17 great disasters in North America since Columbus discovered the western hemisphere. It is significant to note that only four of these occurred before 1900, and only one before 1874!

There is an excellent reason for this phenomenon. Although inundations are caused by many natural upsets, it is pointed out that one of the biggest causes of floods is the cutting down of our forests. This, of course, lets the spring rain run off the land more quickly, the river is unable to take care of this increased flow, result—floods. Add to this the natural growth of cities along the larger waterways and floods become disasters.

Since the turn of the century, the most notable floods in this country have occurred in 1903, 1912, 1913, 1927, 1936, 1937 and 1941. Most of these have occurred in the great watershed of the Mississippi River Valley. This includes the valleys of the Ohio and Missouri rivers, and some lesser rivers. The flood of 1912 hit hardest at Bolivar, Mississippi, where 200 lives were lost and property damage was around forty-five million dollars. In 1913, the Midwest got it again. This time Ohio and Indiana were hardest hit. Seven hundred and thirty people lost their lives and the property loss was estimated at one hundred eighty millions. Still, the worst was yet to come.

In 1927, spring rains again poured their wrath on the Mississippi Valley. This time the score was 350 lives and two to three hundred million dollars damage. Because the area is so large and the river valleys are so extensive, the Midwest has had the greatest floods, but they are not the only sufferers at the hands of Jupiter Pluvius. The heaviest floods of 1936 occurred in the New England and Pennsylvania areas. These floods caused the loss of 100 lives and destroyed one hundred and fifty million dollars worth of property.

It remains for the end of the last century to claim the highest toll of lives by flood. In May, 1889, after exceptionally heavy and extended rains, the dam above Johnstown, Pennsylvania, broke. By the time the angry, roaring flood waters had subsided, more than 2,000 people had lost their lives!

Spring arrives again, and with it comes spring showers. Of the many disasters man suffers, he has learned to control all but two, those of his own mind—and those of the elements—floods, tornadoes, earthquakes, hurricanes and the like.

Fire Fighters

This year, organized fire prevention work is reaching a peak of intensity. Such organizations as the National Board of Fire Underwriters are redoubling their efforts to inform the public of hazards and methods for their elimination. President Truman has called a conference on the subject which will meet in Washington early this May. Communities, horror-struck by the hotel fires of last year and the explosions this year, are examining and modernizing building and safety codes.

All of this work and effort, invaluable as it is, must fail unless it is given public support—and the public means you.

No town, and no organization, can watch every home and place of business and make sure that fire dangers are corrected. It is impossible to "police" electric wiring, heating appliances, the use and storage of inflammable liquids—which are the main causes of home fires. Only the individual concerned can do that job. The fire prevention experts can describe the easy, simple precautions necessary—then it is up to us all to follow them.

You should need no explanation of the stake you have in this campaign against a great destroyer. Last year, close to $600,000,000 worth of property was burned. Worse yet, 10,000 people were cremated. And this takes no account of the enormous indirect loss caused by fire in lost jobs, industrial production, and business. That loss is immeasurable.

When you fight fire, you fight for your own property—and your own life.

WASHINGTON CALLING BY MARQUIS CHILDS

Public Servants Forced To Quit

WASHINGTON, Mar. 24.—Any government servant who goes near Congress these days does so at the risk of his life. The prevailing custom is to break a leg off the nearest committee tabular and beat the offender over the head with it, on the theory apparently that all government is an iniquitous evil.

It is small wonder that able men want to get out. One of the ablest is Capt. Granville Conway, who is leaving in a few days to go back to his job in private business.

Starting as a merchant seaman in 1916, Conway became connected, in 1921, with the U. S. Shipping board that preceded the present U. S. Maritime commission, transferring to the latter when it was created in 1936. He learned the ins and outs of shipping in every phase. He had the kind of knowhow which made him invaluable in getting guns, tanks, men and food to the four corners of the earth in the recent war.

The War Shipping administration first made him director of the Atlantic Coast district, and then a deputy administrator. After the war ended, he succeeded Admiral S. Land as head of the War Shipping administration, and the responsibility was his for a task almost as big as the operational job of the war years.

Had To Act Fast

That was to re-distribute the 4,000 U. S. ships operated by the shipping administration during the war. It meant getting them back into the hands of the private owners from whom they had been requisitioned. This didn't mean just handing them back. It meant negotiating contracts to return them in their original state and do it in such a way that the government would not be on the losing end of these complicated deals.

Conway knew it was important to act fast. He was well aware that the government could not operate a fleet successfully in peacetime. Charter hire on those 4,000 ships cost the government $1,000,000 a day.

Just a year ago, Conway stated to de-requisition (one of the gobbledygook words that find their way into government documents) the company that had chartered hire to the shipping administration. By September, 74 percent of the total tonnage—including tankers which put the number of ships well over 4,000—had been returned.

Wouldn't Want Job Again

Just to recite these figures gives no idea of the endless detail and difficulty involved. Conway says frankly he wouldn't like to undertake it again. Some of the contracts were big. The cost of restoring three Matson liners was $5,500,000 apiece, and shipping men feel that Conway drove a hard bargain for the government.

At one time while he was shipping administrator, the blame for delay in getting relief shipments to Europe was put on lack of shipping space. In a remarkably short time, Conway showed how false that charge was. He demonstrated that the lack was not in tonnage but in goods to fill empty cargo space.

When he thought his job was done, Conway left the government to become head of a private shipping company. But in December, Secretary of Agriculture Clinton Anderson and others on the Cabinet Food committee urged President Truman to try to get Conway back. What with a boxcar shortage and shipping troubles, grain was simply not moving abroad in sufficient quantities.

Reluctantly, at the President's plea, Conway returned. He soon got things moving. In December, January and February, which were bad-weather months, more grain was moved than in the previous five months of comparatively good weather. The total for February was 1,465,000 tons. Conway has been working on coal, iron and shipments are now pressing the mark of 3,500,000 tons a month.

There are various measurements of Conway's success. One is the fact that the government's bill for ship hire during the current fiscal year will be only about $7,000,000.

Conway talks about ships the way a Kentuckian talks about race horses. He believes we have a good chance to develop a substantial and not too costly merchant marine.

The know-how of men like Conway is one of America's great assets. It is one of the reasons we won the war. Men of knowledge and capacity should be encouraged to serve the government. But if the bickering and abuse from Capitol Hill continue, there will be no one of ability left to man vital government posts.

EGGS AND MILK

Eggs and milk are very valuable as foods. They may be used either raw or cooked.

They are easily digested either when just as valued as when cooked in cake or pie or pudding or bread as when served alone.

Some people who do not like eggs can eat them in cakes and feel all right about it.

Milk provides the same amount of nourishment when used in cooking as when taken as a drink.

Children need lots of milk but they do not have to drink it all.

There are many ways to use it in baking and cooking. Many people prefer it that way. It answers the purpose just as well.

We feel sorry for some poor folks these days. They are going around with their pockets full of money harboring the hallucination that they're rich.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

The study of rabbits is to be introduced into British schools . . . It is hoped it will prove more encouraging than the study of man.

Children can learn a lot from the rabbit . . . For instance he wrinkles his nose a lot but he keeps it out of trouble.

There are also news that antelope in our forests have increased from 24 hundred to 27 thousand in 25 years . . . They've got more members now than the elks.

During this time the antelopes have conducted no experiments with the atom, attended no conferences, written no treaties on world relations.

This isn't even known how are things in Glocca Morra.

They are not to suggest that we all become antelopes but there must be something more peaceful about growing horns than blowing horns.

LOOKING AT LIFE

By ERICH BRANDEIS

Do you want to stay young?

Dr. Edward L. Bortz, a specialist in disease of the aged, has a much better system than face-lifting, hair-dyeing and double-chin removing.

Here is his formula:

As you get along in years, eat less food but plenty of fresh fruits.

Watch your elimination. Be sure it is regular.

Get enough rest.

Keep engaged in purposeful activity.

Preserve a sense of humor.

Cultivate contacts with younger people.

Keep on growing intellectually.

Continue your education.

Provide for financial security.

Find a useful outlet for surplus activity.

And last, but not least, take a drink of whisky every now and then.

"Whisky is a splendid tonic," said Dr. Bortz, "a lift to the spirit and soothing to the frayed nerves. But be sure that you use it adequately and not to excess."

Now please don't go writing me a lot of letters telling me that I advocate drunkenness and that I am a no-good lout who is leading this country to perdition.

I am only telling you what Dr. Bortz recommends. I am neither a physician nor a reformer. Personally I don't drink whisky, but only because I don't like it and because whenever I had any of it, it never "lifted my spirit" but made me sleepy and cranky.

So, if you object to the use of liquor, why don't you try the rest of Dr. Bortz' formula?

I have tried it, long before I ever heard of Dr. Bortz, and it certainly worked for me.

This is Monday and I did not do a thing over the weekend but loaf.

And what is the result?

I feel tired today and lazy and have absolutely no energy. All I want to do is loaf some more.

If the weekend were six or seven days long instead of two I wouldn't want to work at all. And pretty soon I'd be all still, and my joints would creek, and in six months I'd be an old man fit for nothing but a nuisance around the house.

As I said, the only part of the doctor's formula that is controversial is the whisky. But that is not a matter of hygiene or science but of your own conception of morality.

Anything you do to excess is bad. Too much coffee, too much meat, too many eggs, too much love, too much of anything gives you indigestion.

"Eggs are bad," you may say, "I thought they are good."

Well, my grandfather was crazy about hard-boiled eggs.

So one night he ate nine of them just before going to bed and died the same night.

If you don't believe me ask my grandmother.

Hints On Etiquette

If you are dining in a cafe or hotel dining room and your napkin or a piece of silver falls to the floor, you should request the waiter to bring you fresh silver and he will pick up the napkin.

Great Game Of Politics

Report Progress In Two Directions

WASHINGTON, March 24.

IN these depressing days it seems worth while to report progress—if only a little—in two not unimportant directions. One is recent evidence of an increase in the clarity of political thought in the country generally; the other is evidence that, despite propaganda and clamor, truth does, somehow, emerge. In a way these two things are one, in that—first each has to do with the question of Communism; second, the first is dependent on the second.

ONLY a short time ago anyone who ventured to bring up this subject in print was vehemently denounced as a "Red baiter". A favorite epithet of the left-wing columnists and professional liberals was "witch burner". Those who insisted that the CIO and its PAC, the American Labor party in New York, the Newspaper Guild of that city and many other organizations, constantly mauling the word "liberal", were satirized if not dominated by the Communists, were indicted as "Roosevelt haters". Those who asserted that many Communists were holding jobs in various Government departments were treated as if they had said something treasonable.

The mildest thing they were called was "scared reactionaries". But that has all changed now. The "scared reactionaries" no longer have to insist upon the menace of Communism. Left-wing columnists, the professional liberals and even some of the CIO leaders themselves (in a pained way) are doing the insisting. Conceding the infiltration of the organization and declaring that 25 per cent of its members are Communist dominated, they are openly battling to keep from being submerged. The so-called "Red baiting" comes from all sides. Everybody is doing it now—and there is no denial of the charges.

INDICTMENT of the CIO as a Communist-ridden organization is made by the AFL and admitted by CIO spokesmen. Fresh testimony of Communist activity on the Government pay rolls is offered before a House committee. In addition a high government official, Secretary of Labor Lewis Schwellenbach (himself a liberal) and CIO endorsed, a short time ago asked Congress to abolish the Communist party in this country by enacting a law to make its existence illegal. Apparently, Mr. Schwellenbach had the support of Attorney General Clark in this request and it is not likely he would have made it without President Truman's knowledge and approval.

IN ADDITION one of the new "liberal" divisions, the Americans for Democratic Action, has publicly banned Communists from membership. There were immediate protests from the CIO and the Communists to the proposal to outlaw the Communist party, and objections were raised by others that the proposal is not wise on two grounds—(1) that delicate dealings with Russia might be upset; (2) that to outlaw the party might merely drive the movement underground. Nevertheless, the idea has strong support and the 1942 words of former Attorney General Biddle are recalled when he described the Communist party here as an "organization that believes in, advises, advocates and teaches the overthrow by force and violence of the Government of the United States."

TRUE, Mr. Biddle was a "liberal" but so far as this issue was concerned, he was a lonely one and his statement neither diminished the Communist party activity in the CIO nor weakened their political support of the Administration of which he was a member—quite the contrary. Of course, if Mr. Biddle (Continued on Page Seven)

In View Of The News

By J. C. OESTREICHER
(U. S. Foreign Editor)

A totally unexpected crisis threatened stability of the Big Four council deliberations in Moscow with the possibility of a French government overthrow that would remove Georges Bidault from the office of foreign minister.

Delegates and observers in the Soviet capital were unanimous in their hope that a definite showdown might be averted.

The issue in Paris centers about Communist opposition to granting additional credits for continuance of military operations against nationalists rebels in French Indo-China.

If Premier Ramadier is discharged from the Hotel Matignon, as the French prime minister's official residence is known, Bidault will have to go with him and France suddenly will lose an international prestige that has soared surprisingly in the past few months. Bidault has enjoyed a number of vast advantages in his presentation of France's case at international conferences.

Politically, he veers to the left, which has made him a welcome negotiator in Soviet eyes. But he also is a staunch Catholic and the last few days have witnessed the unusual spectacle of Bidault being received in private audience by Premier Joseph Stalin and then attending high mass in Moscow's church of St. Louis.

And from the personality standpoint, he has been likened by veteran news correspondents many times to the late James J. "Jimmy" Walker, with the same jaunty appearance and popular following that made the New York mayor a world-famed figure.

Along with everything else in his favor, Bidault had a magnificent record as an underground leader during the war. He managed to produce a clandestine newspaper three times a week in the city of Lyon while maintaining the outward appearance of a college professor isolated from politics and hostilities.

And in this role he was chief liaison man between the anti-Nazi movement in the south of France and the patriotic groups in Paris and London comprising the resistance which finally played such a substantial role in the destruction of Adolf Hitler's power.

From the moment that France was readmitted into the councils of nations, Bidault put his ingenuity to work as a mediator between the widely conflicting views of Soviet Russia and the western powers.

His crowning successes were scored at the Paris peace conference last July. When it seemed inevitable that this first major conference of victorious powers was destined to stumble into hopelessness and collapse in failure.

But time and again the trim, natty figure of Bidault intruded itself on a stalemate, and his soft voice and good humor put disarrayed affairs back in their proper places.

It seems highly probable that the politicians involved in the destiny of France in these troubled times will think twice before forcing a crisis that might send Georges Bidault back to a teacher's desk. He has done more for the international revival of his country than anyone else.

LITTLE FELLOW READING

Upon the floor a book he reads.

To be with grown-ups seems to bore him.

'Tis high adventure that he needs;

His own, still stretching out far before him.

The little fellow's passing eight.

But surely wisdom he is gaining.

He'd rather read adventure great

Than hear us bitterly complaining.

Off in a corner, snugly curled,

He rides with cowboys down in Texas.

And leaves us in our troubled world

Bewailing all the cares that vex us.

Visé little fellow! Better far

To read of brave men, great and humble,

Than to stay where grouped the grown-ups are

And listen to us as we grumble.

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

LET YOUR CHILD HELP HIMSELF

At the age of twelve months, or earlier, your child may attempt to feed himself, and at two try to wash his own hands and put on his own nightgown, but he is so awkward at it and you are so skilled, he is so slow and you so rapid, that unless he offers too strong resistance you do these things yourself. For weeks and months he may strive to do such simple things alone but meeting too great obstacles he may at last give up.

We attain success in teaching the child to wait upon himself when his wish first appears. The urge denied

Free Methodists Preparing Croton Camp Ground Site

Preliminary Work Under Way For First Free Methodist Camp
Meeting At Old Golf Grounds

Rev. Paul R. Splitstone, superintendent of the New Castle District of the Free Methodist church, announced today that preliminary work is already under way at the newly acquired camp ground site of the Free Methodist church in the Croton section of the city, adjacent to Scott and Vine streets.

The 22 acre plot, formerly the old Country Club and golf grounds, was acquired by purchase last fall by the church for the purpose of establishing a camp meeting grounds in this city to supplant the present site at Sharpville which has been sold to another denomination. At first, it was thought that some of the acreage would be sold, but the decision has been made to detain the entire plot which will eventually all be used.

At present, Rev. Splitstone stated, excess timber is being moved from the property preparatory to the erection of rest rooms and a Quonset type building which will be used for a cafeteria. Due to shortage of materials, it will be impossible to have the large tabernacle which will seat 5000 erected by camp meeting this summer, so arrangements have been made to erect a large tabernacle type tent for the meetings in July.

Several cottages are being moved from the Sharpville site to the New Castle grounds for use of campers who will remain on the property during the camp season. Others will erect new cottages on the Vine street grounds.

The first camp scheduled for New Castle will be held from July 10 to 20 inclusive this year and will attract five to seven hundred from the tri-state area.

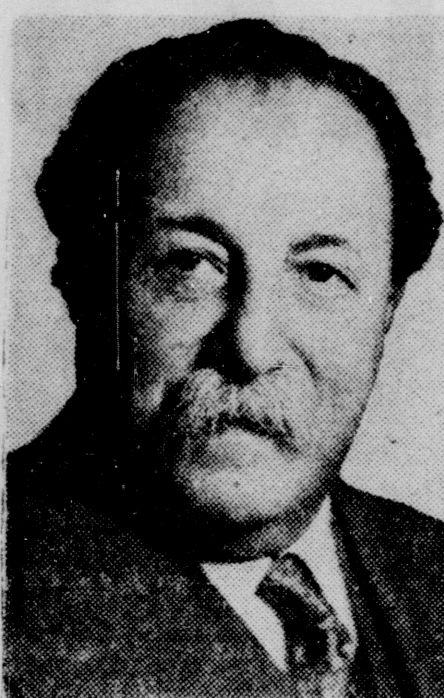

Dayton Will Speak At New Wilmington

NEW WILMINGTON, Mar. 24.—Lewis Dayton of the Agricultural Extension Division of Lawrence county will be the speaker tonight when the Kiwanis club holds its annual "Farmers Night" in the Methodist church. Each Kiwanian has invited a farmer friend.

In Closing Guild Concert

ADRIAN FISHER

PIERRE MONTEAUX

One more concert and the 1946-47 season of the Metropolitan Concert Guild will be over but the closing attraction is one that should appeal to every music lover in this part of Pennsylvania.

On April 24 the San Francisco Symphony Orchestra will appear in the Cathedral with Pierre Monteaux directing and this attraction tops an usually successful season.

Adding to the interest in the symphony itself is the fact that a New Castle artist, Adrian Fisher will appear with the orchestra and will be heard in Concerto in E Flat by Liszt. Adrian Fisher is a talented pianist and the fact that she is a New Castle artist lends to the interest in the concert.

The campaign for members for the 1947-48 season will start on March 24 and President Lewis J. Lewis and Campaign Manager William Morgan have their plans laid for a whirlwind campaign. This coming season will see the return of Thomas L. Thomas, baritone, and in addition the program will bring "A Night in Old Vienna," opera stars in costume, Benno Mosewitsch, pianist and closing with the Indianapolis Symphony orchestra with Fabian Sevitzky directing.

Present members have already received renewal cards and the campaign for memberships will open March 24.

Highland Bible School Contest Sunday Report

Yesterday, the sixth Sunday of the city contest for Sabbath school attendance increase, found the Highland Bible school with an attendance of 498. This was 13 more than the previous Sabbath. Highland has maintained her lead in the first group to date for the sixth Sunday. Of those attending Sabbath school 83 per cent stayed for the church service.

On March 30 the moving picture entitled "Yehudas, the Outcast" will be shown in the intermediate department. The annual Sabbath school association meeting will be held in the church basement on March 31 with A. A. Webb of New Castle as guest speaker, the dinner is to precede the meeting at 6:30 p. m.

The Wilkinson class had the best percentage of attendance yesterday in the class contest with 160 per cent. The Mercer class now has a comfortable lead in the class contest with 142 per cent average. The Vogan class is second with 132.7 per cent average.

In the department contest the Young Peoples department, not so hard hit by children's diseases, has gained on the other departments and now holds a commanding lead. Our intermediate department contest finds the girls leading the boys 85.7 per cent to 79.1 per cent. In the junior department airplane race, the Greider class plane and the Conway class plane are running a close race.

The Mercer class contest shows Clarence Ruthrauff's team leading Russell Canan's team, 134 to 127. The Lindner class contest shows Edward Miller's team leading Lloyd McCormick's team, 43 to 37.

The class standings follow, showing standing, number present and average per cent of gain:

Mercer class	37	142.0
Vogan class	19	132.7
Smith class	11	126.6
Lindner class	20	116.9

Ask Week's Recess In Trial Of Tojo

TOKYO, March 24.—(INS)—A defense plea for a one-week recess in the trial of ex-Premier Hideki Tojo and 25 other Japanese war-time leaders was under consideration today by the Tokyo international war crimes tribunal.

The request was made because of a "breakdown in the defense campaign" caused by slowness of translation in preparing defense documents.

Defense attorneys said that they could continue only if they were allowed to call witnesses out of turn.

A handwriting expert has figured out mathematically that the chance of two people writing exactly alike is one in 68,000,000,000,000.

A Weak, Run-Down Feeling Is Often A Warning

That The Red-Blood
Is Getting Low

If you do not feel like your real self, do not have the urge to be up and doing why not check-up on your blood strength? Look at the palms of your hands, your fingernails, your lips, the lobes of your ears—are they pale and off color?

Every day—every hour—millions of tiny red-blood-cells must pour forth from the marrow of your bones to replace those that are worn-out. A low blood count may affect you in several ways: no appetite, underweight, no energy, a run-down condition, lack of resistance to infection and disease.

To get real relief you must keep up your blood strength. Medical authorities, by analysis of the blood, have by positive proof shown that SSS Tonic is amazingly effective in building up low blood strength in non-organic nutritional anemia. This is due to the SSS Tonic formula which contains special and potent activating ingredients.

Also, SSS Tonic helps you enjoy the food you eat by increasing the gastric digestive juice when it is not organically too little or scanty—thus the stomach will have little cause to get balky with gas, bloating and give off that sour food taste.

Don't wait! Energize your body with rich, red-blood. Start on SSS Tonic now. As vigorous blood surges throughout your whole body, greater freshness and strength should make you eat better, sleep better, feel better, work better, play better, have a healthy color glow in your skin—firm flesh fill out hollow places. Millions of bottles sold. Get a bottle from your drug store. SSS Tonic helps Build Sturdy Health.

Several Key Men In Strikers Ranks Barred From Plant

MILWAUKEE, Wis., March 24.—(INS)—Officials of Allis Chalmers Manufacturing Co. today barred several key members of the CIO-United Automobile Workers union from returning to work.

The company termed its action a move to prevent strife within the plant during the early stages of the back-to-work period.

Union members of local 248 voted to call off the 329-day strike yesterday by an overwhelming three to one vote of 1,500 members.

W. C. Van Cleef, director of personnel for the company, sent the following telegram to several of the men most active in the union's strike-ridden strike:

"Please do not report for work in the near future. You will be advised of your employment status by letter after your case has been carefully considered on its merits."

President Walter Geist of Allis Chalmers said:

"This doesn't mean these men are fired.

"The activities of some of these men on picket lines may have been such that they are not the type of individuals we want working at Allis Chalmers."

The choir has in preparation an unusually fine Easter cantata which will be presented at 4:30 on the afternoon of Easter Sunday.

AVERT RUBBER PLANTS STRIKE

AKRON, O., March 24.—(INS)—The CIO-United Rubber Workers of America and the "Big Four" companies of the industry pointed the way today to uninterrupted production during 1947 with the eleventh-hour signing of a new wage agreement.

Approved in Cleveland just 22 hours before some 100,000 unionists were to have struck in 42 plants scattered over the nation, the contract granted an 11½-cent hourly wage boost.

The figure was a compromise between the original 10-cent offer made by companies and the union demand of 16 cents, which had been pared down from 26 cents.

County Sunday School Contest Report To Date

Attendances, taken as a whole, were good for the sixth Sunday of the eight weeks pre-Easter increase campaign being sponsored by the Lawrence County Sabbath School association, and despite sickness that has affected the attendances for a number of Sunday schools, most of those participating have gained points and are looking forward to a record-breaking attendance Easter Sunday, April 6th.

In the first, New Castle, group, the Highland U. P. went over the 1,000 mark and remained in first place with the First Baptist in second place, and the Third U. P. with the second consecutive highest attendance in the county yesterday, remained in third place.

In the second group the First Pentecostal, First Christian and First U. P., are first, second and third, in order. In the third group the Croton Methodist is in first place, followed by the Central Christian and Nazarene. Is the Fourth group the First United Brethren also went over the 1,000 mark and remained in first place. The St. Paul's Lutheran had their highest attendance of the campaign yesterday and are in second place, with the First Congregational in third place. In the Fifth group, all now have points, and the Reformed Presbyterian is in the lead.

In the Ellwood group, the First Methodist is still in first place and practically every Sunday school has gained points. Those going into the point class were the First Baptist, First Christian, and Slippery Rock Presbyterian. The standings for Ellwood District will be published later.

In Wilmington district six of the eight Sunday schools have reported and all have gained points. The Sunday schools having their highest attendances yesterday were the New Wilmington Methodist, the Volant Presbyterian, the Shenango U. P., and the East Brook U. P. The standings for Wilmington district, as well as for Pulaski, Mount Jackson, Slippery Rock, Plaingrove and Wampum, will be published later.

The following are the complete standings for the five groups of New Castle:

THE PARENT PROBLEM

you know it, you resort to all kinds of ineffectual modes of trying to make him do such things himself, stepping in when your patience flags and doing them yourself. How almost impossible then it is not to go on doing for the child many things which he could and ought to do alone.

And so it happens that many a child is spoon-fed long after entering school, with his neck and ears and hands washed every morning, and his whole body bathed by some adults until puberty.

The Habits Grow

Insidiously these habits of dependence grow. Any mother can do such things for the child much better, much more easily and quickly than he will do them alone.

Without such help the porridge this morning won't be eaten; but as you take the spoon and say, "Now let's finish this," it vanishes and all is well.

When you wash the child before he goes to school you know he will go clean and that the family's reputation will be safe. The immediate results are good, just for today. But every morning's exercise of this sort makes the child more dependent for the morrow.

But you may ask, "What shall I do if my eight-year-old boy never will go clean to school unless I wash him?" Just inspect him before he goes and calmly send him back to wash again and again until he is really washed well. No reason for you to be angry then. Once he knows what will pass and that your word is good he will learn to conform to your reasonable standard of cleanliness.

Your way out is not an easy one, but there is a way if you can have enough sympathy, encouragement and self-assurance to sit down and think through the situation to work out a program and stick to it. If up to this point the father has done nothing but register disapproval his chief contribution will lie in silence, save to celebrate your successes as they come.

I devote a long chapter to independence and self-reliance in my book, "Building Personality in Children," which you probably will find in your public library.

THE GREAT GAME OF POLITICS

was right then and the Messrs. Schwellenbach and Clark are right now, the Communist party is, in fact, a criminal conspiracy under existing Federal law. As to the effect on negotiations with Russia of public agitation and action to halt the spread of Communism here, it may reasonably be asked what is the sense of sending millions in money and material to Greece and Turkey to prevent Communist domination of those countries while entirely ignoring its spread in our own?

THAT seems idiotic. Certainly, it is not the way to win Russian respect or confidence. It is a sure way to confirm the view that we are a nation of incurable saps. As a sample of what goes on here, take this quotation from an extremely left-wing New York Evening Post from the column of the extremely liberal labor specialist, Mr. Victor Riesel. He says: "Another of the pro-Communist unions controls enough native and white Pan-American workers to cripple the Panama Canal if a strike were called. Some 20,000 men working for the Army, Navy and canal administrations are members of this highly politicized union. They were ordered to reveal their militancy by parading through the streets of the cities at each end of the canal—which they did two weeks ago. They are CIO unions." This does not come from an unfriendly source. It comes from a friendly one. Is it something to be ignored?

Gaston Post Will Further Plans For Commander's Dinner

National Commander Griffith, Johnstown Man, Will Be Here Next Month To Address Vets

Plans for the entertainment of National Commander Paul H. Griffith, of Johnstown, Pa., April 21 will be outlined at the meeting of Perry S. Gaston Post, American Legion, in the Legion Home Tuesday evening.

Ches C. Sweasy and Clyde D. Badger are the co-chairmen on arrangements, Perry S. Gaston Post, and the Lawrence County committee being the host posts for the banquet which will attract Legionnaires from all over Western Pennsylvania and Eastern Ohio when Commander Griffith will speak.

The local post has been engaged in an intensive membership campaign as a pre-banquet activity and hopes to be over the top in membership when Commander Griffith comes here. Plans for this will also be outlined by Membership Chairman Joe Solomon, senior vice commander of the post.

There will be eats and refreshments at the close of the meeting. Commander Gene Schweinsburg announced.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Brommer and family and Mr. and Mrs. Sam Freed all of New Castle were recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. John Brommer.

Maj. E. S. Marsh Is Now In Korea

Local Officer Finds Life There Much Like Frontier Life In Early Days Of America

In a letter to The News, Major Edgar E. Marsh, who re-enlisted after serving in the European sector during the war, writes of his impressions of far-off Korea, where he is now stationed.

Major Marsh left here last November, and after several months in this country, left for the far east, via Honolulu and Midway, arriving in Yokohama, January 30. He was pleasantly surprised to meet Fred Duff, son of Fred C. Duff, local banker, who lives almost across the street from him on Delaware avenue, and his own son, Edgar, who is stationed with a Photo Tech Unit, at Johnson Field, just outside Tokyo. After staying for a short time at the Jap West Point, he was assigned to Korea, in charge of Signal Corps facilities at Incheon, on the west coast of Korea.

Supplies are scarce in Korea, he reports, with little in the way of entertainment. The country in general, he reports seems bleak, cold, and unwanted, and life is much like during pioneer days in the United States.

SCOTT'S SCRAP BOOK

By R. J. SCOTT

Around Hollywood

By JOHN TODD

International News Service Staff Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD, Mar. 24.—Funny-man Red Skelton has been doing some very serious work of late. He's been trying to find out what makes bad boys bad.

He's been visiting reformatories and other places for delinquents. "I give a show for them and afterwards I talk to them seriously to find out how they got into trouble," Red explained to your reporter.

"So many people blame crime on movies and the radio, and because I'm in both, I've been interested to learn what the score really is. "I'm convinced that neither the movies nor radio breeds crime. I think the environment of the home is the principal cause.

"I've talked to a lot of the boys and I've yet to find one who got the idea for his crime from the movies or radio.

"Here's an example. One of the boys was sentenced for stealing an automobile. I said to him: 'What movie did you see to give you the idea of stealing a car?'

"He looked at me and said, 'What are you trying to give me?' I said

"Well, maybe you got the idea from some radio program."

"The boy replied, 'No, I didn't. I just wanted to steal a car so I stole one.'"

"I said to him, 'I just thought that maybe you'd got the idea from either the movies or the radio.'"

"He came right back, 'Listen,' he said, 'there wasn't any radio or movies back in 'Ro during the California gold rush, were there? Men were jumping claims and committing other crimes then. They didn't need the movies or radio to give them any ideas, did they?'"

Red plans to continue his work after he completes some added scenes at M-G-M for "Merton of the Movies."

"There's much to be done," Red said. "I try to stress to the kids that this is their country and they must work to keep it great."

The housing shortage must be worse up in the neck of the woods where your reporter lives than in Hollywood.

The latest edition of the Montrose News-Record, one of our two weeklies, carries this ad:

"We (two women with three little girls) are not seeking to find one of the hopelessly scarce houses or apartments—but would someone please just rent us a shade tree to camp under this summer. Will do gardening or housework in exchange for pay cash. Box C-52 Tujunga."

Mean To Incite Public Interest In Civic Issues

HARRISBURG, Mar. 24.—(INS) —Stimulation of public interest in problems confronting municipalities today was the objective of a committee of civic organizations sponsored by the Department of Internal Affairs.

The group, known as the committee on city problems, adopted during its initial meeting at the state capitol yesterday a policy "to present the result of municipal research to the public to bring about enlightened opinion looking toward the solution of many grave and growing problems."

Headed by Dr. Harold F. Alderfer, director of municipal affairs, the committee comprised representatives of the Chamber of Commerce, Pennsylvania Economy League and various local civic groups.

Garden Notes

Make sure that all evergreen specimens that were tied up for support during the winter are loosened now so that they can take on their natural form.

Go over all vines and plants trained against buildings to make sure that the staples have not pulled away or the ties rotted through.

Shrubs that flower in April and may should have any necessary pruning done as soon as their blossoms have faded.

Burning over the lawn is inadvisable. It is much better to rake it with an iron rake to remove the litter and dead grass. Early re-seeding and fertilizing of old lawns will help to restore them to their former beauty.

All bird-houses should be put in place immediately, if you have not already installed them. The species of birds which make use of such houses begin nesting early in the season.

Vegetable roots such as asparagus, rhubarb, sea kale, etc., should go into the ground as soon as possible. There's no danger of getting them in too soon.

Damage Of $100,000 In Uniontown Fire

UNIONTOWN, Pa., March 24.—(INS) —Firemen today estimated damage at nearly $100,000 in a fire which last night gutted a two-story building in Uniontown occupied by a garage and a beer distributing agency.

Firemen reported the blaze destroyed 11 automobiles, four trucks and two motorcycles in the garage on the second floor.

Three beer trucks and four bakery trucks also were destroyed, along with a large quantity of beer on the first floor, police said.

The fire, reportedly the worst in recent years, brought out the city's entire fire department. Firemen brought the blaze under control within an hour. No cause was immediately determined.

Former Owners Of Camp Reynolds Land Buy It Back

TRANSFER, Pa. Mar. 24.—Seven former owners and seven veterans have purchased 1,563 of the 2,467 acres which once formed the site of Camp Reynolds.

The remaining land, with the exception of sites on which large warehouses are standing, is being offered for sale by the War Assets Administration.

Camp Reynolds, built in 1942 at a cost of more than $18,000,000 is rapidly disappearing. Most of the 2,000 barracks have been used in veterans' housing programs at colleges and universities.

PLANE IN CRASH

SDMERSET, Pa., March 24.—(INS)—Two Uniontown men today

were recovering from injuries suffered Sunday when their light airplane crashed at nearby Kingwood when they attempted to take-off from a highway following a forced landing.

Police reported that Richard Stone and George Silver suffered face cuts and shock when their plane crashed as they attempted to avoid a powerline obstructing their takeoff. The men had landed on a farm earlier when they became lost, policemen said.

TEST WELLS DOWN 4300 FEET
WARREN, Pa., Mar. 24.—(INS)—Two test wells being sunk in the Warren area in search of gas or oil today were down to 4300-foot level, operators reported.

It was expected both wells would hit the crinkly sand after the drills get through a solid rock formation where both were today.

One of the wells is near Sugar Grove and the other near Carter Hill.

Rev. Earl Collins

Ends Ministry At Castlewood Church

Pastor Of Harmony Baptist Church For Past Three Years To Enter Evangelistic Field

REV. EARL COLLINS

Rev. Earl E. Collins, pastor of the Harmony Baptist church at Castlewood since December, 1943, completed his ministry in that church with the Sunday services. Rev. Collins tendered his resignation to the church congregation December 26, 1946, while it did not become effective until yesterday.

Beginning his ministry at the Harmony church in October, 1943, as a supply pastor, he was extended a call to become the churches regular minister in December of that same year. Since he assumed the pulpit of the church the work has been alive and active with many tasks accomplished and many additions to the church through his untiring work.

The departing pastor will enter the evangelistic field, as he already has numerous invitations on hand. His evangelistic work will begin on April 7 with a two week series of meetings in the Wampum Methodist church.

Only one former pastorate was held by Rev. Collins, when he served six years at the Community church of Vestal N. Y. For the present, the Collins family will reside at their home at R. D. 1, New Castle-Ellwood road.

Prison Break

Attempt Foiled

PHILADELPHIA, March 24.—(INS)—A break-neck escape attempt by two Moyamensing prison trustees was foiled early today before they could leave the prison grounds.

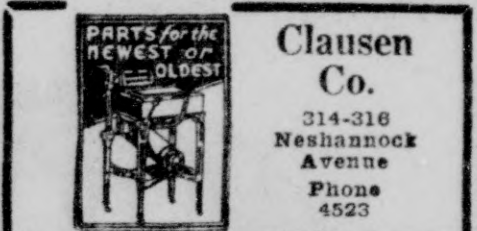

The convicts were spotted by a guard as they edged along the roof of the prison hospital, nervously preparing for the final leap that would have carried them over the prison wall.

Prison guards and Philadelphia police trained floodlights on the prisoners until they crawled back into the hospital attic.

Unofficial reports said the trustees had been assigned to work in the hospital and had hidden themselves in the building during the night.

Warden John Reid questioned the prisoners and ordered an investigation of prisoners confined to the infirmary, but refused to issue a statement.

Soil scientists, agronomists, chemists and doctors are deeply concerned about soil fertility.

ARGENTINA DROPS PLANS FOR TRADE PACT WITH SOVIET

BUENOS AIRES, Mar. 24.—(INS)—Argentina was reported today to have dropped plans for a commercial agreement with the Soviet Union.

A high government official said the decision was forced by the threat of Communist expansion and Russia's recognized inability to deliver contracted machinery.

The official, who asked that his identity be withheld, said this was not expected to disrupt projected Soviet-Argentine friendship pact.

Allis-Chalmers

Strike Is Ended

MILWAUKEE, Mar. 24.—(INS)—The end of the bitter and stormy 329-day strike at the Allis-Chalmers Manufacturing Company in suburban West Allis resulted today in a back to work march to the plant by the CIO-United Automobile Workers union.

Officials of the striking local said it will take at least three weeks before all of the former strikers are absorbed in their old jobs at the huge farm equipment plant.

The strike was called off yesterday by an overwhelming 3 to 1 vote of 1,500 members of the local which mustered 11,000 strikers when the walkout started last April 30. The strikers numbered about 4,700 when the vote was taken.

Old Timers Are Given Honor By Eagles Sunday

Pioneer Members Of New Castle
Aerie Special Guests At Dinner
In Lodge Dining Room

Veteran members of New Castle aerie, No. 455, Fraternal Order of Eagles, were honored at a dinner in the lodge rooms Friday evening. There were 150 present who have been members of the local lodge for 25 years or more.
A delicious chicken dinner was served by the ladies' auxiliary, which was followed by a program, with Judge John G. Lamoree as the speaker of the evening.
Among the veterans in attendance, and who were given special mention, was Chauncey Davis, first president of the local aerie, and who was one of the three original organizers of the local lodge, in 1903.
Entertainment followed the dinner program.

Korea U. S. Zone Government Plan Is Being Framed

WASHINGTON, Mar. 24.—(INS)—The United States today expects to issue within the next few weeks a plan for setting up an independent, self-governing state in the American zone in Korea.
The plan, actively being considered by high government officials, is designed to counter the effects of the failure of Soviet officials to carry out a commitment to unify the strategic area's economy and politics.
However, a State Department spokesman declared flatly that the United States has not abandoned its intentions of trying to get Moscow to agree to complete unification of the two zones.
At present the country is divided on the 38th parallel with Russia controlling the rich north and the United States the south. Failure to unify the zones has created serious disturbances. These at times have threatened the security of U.S. occupation troops.
The revelation of the pending plan came from Dr. Singman Rhee, veteran Korean Nationalist, who is flying back soon to his homeland. He expects to reach a position of political prominence.
Rhee declared that an interim Korean government will be set up within 30 to 60 days. It would control all internal affairs excepting the disposition of Japanese property, which will be held for reparations.

St. Joseph's Has May Queen Election

Betty Heibley To Reign As May
Queen In Sunday Ceremonies May 4

Election of May queen was held at the monthly meeting of the Young Ladies Sodality of St. Joseph's church with Betty Heibley selected to be May queen. The little office opened the meeting.
Plans were made for an hour of adoration to be held on Holy Thursday. Rita Leonardo spoke on the Annunciation of the Blessed Virgin Mary. Jean Tommelio gave an enlightening talk on the doings of the Blessed Mother, whose feast days are on March 25 and March 28.
Margie Panella spoke on functions of Holy Week in the Catholic church, and special pamphlets of interest were distributed.
Marcella Klaber, Apostolic committee enlightened the girls on the established custom of the Way of the Cross, its origination and custom.
Betty Stafford encouraged the sodalists to hear the various excellent radio Catholic programs now in progress. The meeting closed with compline. April 18 is the next meeting. Rev. Fr. John M. Unger is the spiritual director of the sodality.

Former Labor Leader Faces Charges On Tax

NEW YORK, Mar. 24.—(INS)—James V. Bove, former labor leader, now serving long sentences at Auburn prison for extortion and embezzlement, goes on trial today on charges of evasion of $100,000 in income taxes.

U. S. Attorney John F. X. McGohey said that Bove, 48-year-old ex-vice president of the AFL International Hod Carriers, building and common laborers union, is being brought here on a habeas corpus writ for the trial.

Income tax charges against Bove are said to be the result of funds he received along with Joseph S. Fay, another former Union official, in connection with construction of the Delaware river aqueduct supplying water to New York.

Lord Mountbatten Assumes New Post

NEW DELHI, Mar. 24.—(INS)—Admiral Viscount Louis Mountbatten was sworn in today at New Delhi as the new viceroy of India.

Speaking from the viceroy's throne after his induction, Lord Mountbatten declared that a solution to India's problems "must be reached within the next few months".

He pledged all the help at his command to aid Indian political leaders in solving their problems.

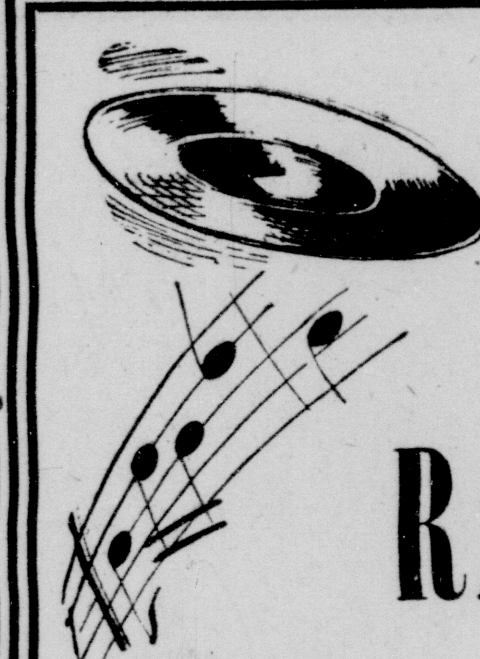

Lord Mountbatten also appealed to Indians in general to avoid bitterness and to halt communal rioting which recently has taken a severe toll of innocent victims.

Tipster Fails To Keep Appointment

Telephone Tip To Philadelphia
Police On California Killings
Fails To Develop

PHILADELPHIA, Mar. 24.—(INS)—The telephone tipster who told west coast police he knew who killed Mr. and Mrs. Walter Overell aboard their yacht, has failed to keep his promised rendezvous with Philadelphia authorities, police said today.

The man phoned Detective Lieut. Harry Nuffer at Santa Ana, Calif., that the man who killed the Overells was hiding in Philadelphia. He reportedly promised Nuffer that he would give the details to Philadelphia police.

The tipster identified himself as "Edward Pierce", but authorities have been unable to find any trace of him.

The telephone company said the telephone number given by the man when he placed the call was that of a pay station in a north Philadelphia lunchroom.

Carl Segal, proprietor of the restaurant, said only he and two friends were in the lunchroom at the time the call was supposed to have been made Saturday night.

The Overells' bodies were found aboard their yacht after it was shattered by an explosion. Their daughter, Beulah Louise, 17, and her fiancé, George R. Gollum, 21, are being held.

C. C. Douthitt Rites At Grafton, W. Va.

Funeral services for Carl C. Douthitt are being conducted today in Grafton, W. Va., according to a message received by local friends.

Mr. Douthitt who died March 20, in Huntington, W. Va., was 63 years of age. He was a son of Thomas and Nancy Leight Douthitt, former residents of Wampum.

Survivors include his wife, Mrs. Frances Douthitt; a son, Hugh Douthitt, and one brother, O. V. Douthitt, Wampum, R. D. 1.

Women's Ecclesian Club Has Breakfast

Together in a body, the Women's Ecclesian club attended holy mass Sunday at 8 o'clock in St. Joseph's church, receiving communion after which a communion breakfast followed in the Ecclesian club.

After breakfast, Mrs. Wanda Zarilla, president, welcomed the group and introduced Rev. Fr. Francis C. Streiff, who offered a message.

"Communion breakfasts are public manifestations of our belief in God," he said. "They prove that we are first, individuals, secondly, members of society, but that we must always return to God. We have communion breakfast in acknowledgement we owe to God."

In addition to Fr. Streiff attending as guests were: Clare Duff, treasurer of the Rosary society; Mrs. Anna Duff, president; Mrs. Marie J. Meiz, president of L. C. B. A.; and Betty Heibley, prefect of St. Joseph's sodality.

Father Streiff pronounced the invocation and benediction.

Miss Adrian Fisher Home From New York

Miss Adrian Fisher, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Abraham Fisher, 216 East Moody avenue, has returned home from a week's stay in New York City, where she appeared in concerts, at Town Hall.

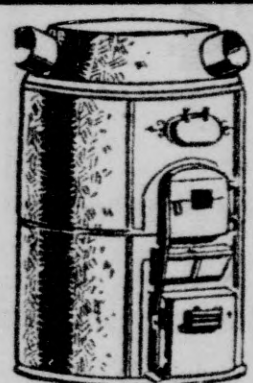

Miss Fisher appeared on the same programs with Hugh Thompson, Metropolitan opera, baritone, and Miss Olga Coelho, South American singer.

Says U. S. Must Provide Aid For Korea For 3 Years

WASHINGTON, March 24.—(INS)—Acting Secretary of State Dean Acheson told Congress today that the United States will have to provide financial aid to Korea "over the next three years" in addition to Greece and Turkey.

Acheson said Russian unwillingness to agree upon the scope of discussions for establishing a trusteeship over all of Korea is responsible for the "breakdown" which requires this government to provide financial assistance.

Acheson told the Senate foreign relations committee he could not estimate at this time how much money would be needed for the part of Korea under U. S. control.

Fire Damages Former Luxury Liner Monarch

Carried Passengers For Years Between New York And Bermuda Points

LONDON, Mar. 24.—(INS)—Fire which destroyed the superstructure of the former luxury liner Monarch of Bermuda spread today into the interior of the palatial ship.

Firemen fighting the unchecked blaze aboard the vessel at its repair drydock at Hebburn-on-Tyne said that the superstructure had been gutted and that extensive damage already has been done to the ship.

Five firemen have been injured in the fight to put out the blaze.

The ship remained afloat after several hours despite efforts of firemen to bring the blaze under control.

The blaze, one of the biggest fires in the history of the Tynesides, swept through the 22,000-ton Monarch.

The fire broke out at 4 a. m. (10 p. m. Sunday EST), and a strong wind spread the blaze through the superstructure.

Several of 200 firemen fighting the shipboard fire were overcome by fumes.

The Monarch, familiar to American visitors to Bermuda, plied for many years between New York and Hamilton before being claimed during the war as a troop transport.

Girl Scout Executives Attend Conference

Conference Conducted At William Penn Hotel, Pittsburgh, All Day Saturday

On Saturday, nineteen local Girl Scout leaders, troop committee members and members of the Girl Scout council attended the Girl Scout Conference for sections 4 and 5 when they met with similar groups from all parts of western Pennsylvania at the William Penn Hotel in Pittsburgh. Theme for the all-day session was "Better Citizens Build A Better World."

Mrs. Paul Forcey, local Girl Scout Commissioner, was chairman for arrangements for the conference.

An impressive flag ceremony in which all flags of the United Nations were represented, was conducted by Beaver County Girl Scouts and opened the conference.

Dr. Erdman Harris, headmaster of Shady Side Academy, of Pittsburgh, delivered the principal address of the morning session. At the noon luncheon, Miss Kathryn McCullough, former member of the national staff of Girl Scouting and recently returned from extensive work with UNRRA, told of her work among refugees of the last war.

During the afternoon session, work-shops were conducted on various phases of scouting, followed by a Senior Girls Forum which proved most interesting. Beaver County Girls also had charge of the closing ceremony.

Local Council members attending the conference include: Mrs. Paul Forcey, Mrs. Frank Bowers, Mrs. R. G. Dickson, Mrs. E. L. Thompson and Mrs. Harry Wettich; leaders, Mrs. Russell Cartwright, Miss Alice Welther, Mrs. Hattie Hughes, Mrs. C. M. Booher, Mrs. T. A. Clark, Mrs. Fred Jenkins, Mrs. C. D. Shumaker, Mrs. David Lewis, Mrs. Helen Davis, Mrs. N. J. McCluskey, Miss Maxine Bigley, Miss Laura Snider, Miss Ruth Hanna and Miss Lois Lightner.

FIRE OCCURS AT EAST NEW CASTLE

Shenango township firemen were summoned to the home of Walter E. Hoover, of East Washington street extension, a few doors away from the Shenango township fire department at 10:45 o'clock this morning, when the roof caught fire from a defective chimney. A small section of the roof was burned, the damage being light, it was reported.

President Will Meet Leaders Of Parties Tonight

WASHINGTON, March 24.—(INS)—President Truman will hold an important legislative conference tonight with congressional leaders of both parties.

The chief executive summoned Republican and Democratic leaders of both branches of congress to the White House at 8 p. m.

The White House would not disclose the specific reason for the evening conference. However, it was stated unofficially that the international situation—specifically the Greek and Turkish loan question—is not the reason for the meeting.

So many men in World War II were engaged in supply, maintenance and administration, that only one United States veteran in eight actually saw combat.

The author of the Christian hymn, "Christian! Dost Thou See Them," St. Andrew of Srete, lived from about 650 to 740. He is credited with the invention of the canon as a form of hymnody. The English translation is by Rev. Dr. John Mason Neale (1818-1866), a priest of the Church of England. His translations of Greek and Latin hymns are, as a whole, the most distinguished in the English language.

Thirty of the 80 Congresses have been controlled by an anti-administration party.

More Divorce Suits Are Filed

Record Of 1946 In Lawrence County Court May Be Exceeded This Year

OTHER NEWS OF COURT HOUSE

Divorce actions in Lawrence County seem to be holding to the high record set in 1946, if indeed there are not more of them. Six more actions have been filed for trial in the Lawrence County courts and will come before the April term, in all probability.

They follow:

Iva Nadine Newton, 924 Adams St., New Castle, asks a divorce from Sylvester Newton of East Liverpool, O., upon the grounds of desertion and non-support and indignities to person. They were married December 3, 1926 in Youngstown, O.

Adam Filippone by his guardian, Helen Ferrante, of 1120 Beaver avenue, Ellwood City asks a divorce from Betty Filippone of 145 East 68th street, Los Angeles, Cal., upon the grounds of cruel and barbarous treatment and indignities to person. They were married May 12, 1946 in Los Angeles, Cal.

Roy A. Seamans of 934 Woodside avenue, Ellwood City asks a divorce from Blanche M. Seamans of 210 East Stockton street, North Side, Pittsburgh upon the grounds of cruel and barbarous treatment and indignities to person. They were married August 29, 1928 in New Castle.

Clara O. Jamison of East Washington street, New Castle, asks a divorce from Charles E. Jamison of New Castle upon the grounds of cruel and barbarous treatment and indignities to person. They were married March 26, 1943 in Toledo, O. Shirley J. Menichino, of 207 1/2 North Liberty street, by her guardian Fern K. Washin, asks a divorce from Andy C. Menichino of 108 North Liberty street, New Castle upon the grounds of cruel and barbarous treatment and indignities to person. They were married in September 1941.

Ruth E. Clark of 432 1/2 County Line street, New Castle, asks a divorce from James E. Clark of 37 1/2 South Jefferson street, New Castle upon the grounds of desertion. They were married February 12, 1944 in Mercer.

Suit Is Filed
P. L. Coppock of New Waterford, O., files a suit for $106.05 from Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Thomas of Big Beaver township. The plaintiff claims he moved a house for the defendants for which he was to receive $150. He claims $43.95 was paid and the balance paid by a check upon which the defendants stopped payment.

BRAHAM IN WAYNESBURG
Judge W. Walter Braham was the speaker at the annual banquet of the Greene County bar association Saturday night in Waynesburg, Pa. Judge Braham spoke upon the procedural changes which were put into effect by the State Supreme Court on January 1, 1947.

RETURNS TO PRACTICE
Attorney Orville Brown has returned to practice in the Lawrence County courts after an absence of some years. For several years he was a deputy attorney general of Pennsylvania but left that post to enter war service with headquarters in Sydney, Australia.

LEGAL CASUALTIES
One might almost conclude that the practice of law was a hazardous occupation. In the past few days two attorneys who are incapacitated were in the court house. Attorney Gilbert E. Long gets around on crutches, due to a broken ankle and Attorney Maurice Levinson has an arm in a sling due to an accident upon the ice several weeks ago.

State Releases 103,000 Rabbits

State Commission Imports 74,000 Missouri Rabbits; Free 29,000 Trapped Rabbits

HARRISBURG, March 24.—(INS)—The state game commission Saturday reported more than 100,000 rabbits were released in hunting areas during the three month period ended March 1.

Game protectors and outdoor groups trapped 39,000 cotton tails in Pennsylvania while the commission imported 74,000 bunnies from Missouri to augment the restocking program, it was announced. The number of rabbits shipped into the state was the largest in ten years.

A large percentage of the native rabbits trapped on non-hunting areas came from Berks, Allegheny, Mercer, Erie and Blair counties, the commission said.

DRY SUDS SHAMPOO REMOVES DUST FILM

As the days get longer and brighter, many homemakers wake up to the not too welcome realization that their upholstered furniture is showing the results of winter's coal dust.

Needed for the shampooing process is some soap jelly, ammonia, clean cloths, a stiff brush and a spatula. Dissolve a half cup of mild soap flakes in a cup of boiling water and when partially cool add two tablespoons of household ammonia.

When ready to use, beat the soap jelly with a rotary egg beater until it foams a stiff dry froth. Apply this froth to the upholstery with a stiff brush, working rapidly with the grain of the material. Do not attempt to do too large an area at one time. Keep at least an inch of suds on the surface; this suds floats off the dirt.

Remove the soiled suds with a spatula or dull edged knife, then wipe the material with a soft cloth wrung out of clear warm water. Repeat the sudsing and wiping procedure until the entire surface of the furniture has been cleaned, overlapping each area. This method of cleaning keeps the upholstery from becoming too wet and prevents rings from forming as the material dries.

Exposed woodwork of furniture may be cleaned with a mild furniture polish which may be made at home.

Take a half cup of turpentine, one cup boiled linseed oil and one tablespoon of vinegar and mix thoroughly. Apply the polish with a clean soft cloth, first rubbing against the grain of the wood to fill in any light scratches, then rubbing with the grain. Allow the wood to absorb the oil, then rub until a satiny gloss is obtained.

EATING MINCE PIE WAS FORBIDDEN IN THE TIME OF CROMWELL!
OFFENDERS WERE BANISHED FROM THE CHURCH AND EXILED FROM THE COUNTRY

EXPLANATION OF TODAY'S CARTOON—MINCE PIE BANNED—In 1659 the Lord Protector, Oliver Cromwell, issued an ordinance prohibiting the eating of mince pies, under pain of instant expulsion from Church and State. Christian England conceived mince pies to be an abomination "abhorrent to a Christian and a heritage of Pagan, Druidic worship."

Report Russians Arresting German Youth Leaders

By GEORGE HERALD
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

BERLIN, Mar. 24.—Mass arrests of German youth leaders accused of serving as American secret agents were reported today to be taking place in the Soviet zone of Germany and the Russian sector of Berlin.

Trustworthy sources said that the arrests were started in mid-March.

American counter-intelligence authorities confirmed German accounts of arrests but declined to discuss whether the persons in custody of the Russians actually had furnished information to American authorities.

They said only that "it is possible they did."

The majority of those arrested so far are said to be functionaries of the Christian Democratic Union youth movement, among them a number of girls aged 8 to 20 who are members of Catholic youth groups.

Prominent Among Arrested
Prominent among the arrested was said to be 19-year-old Manfred Klein, a student and Christian Union representative in the Berlin university student council.

The reports said that 23-year-old Heinz Wradslow was picked up in the Cafe Kranzler on Unter Den Linden on March 19.

Christian Democratic Union officials Hans Ewald and Karl Shippke were said to be detained at Halle. Many other arrests also were reported in Dresden, Leipzig and Chemnitz, although some of those taken into custody subsequently were released.

According to German sources, Soviet police questioned all arrested concerning their relations with American authorities and American correspondents.

Circles close to the office of the military government of the United States pointed out that the arrests, which created considerable alarm among the Berlin populace, started two days after President Truman made his historic speech about the necessity of having America prevent the spread of communism.

Housing Shortage Blame Is Placed On Rent Control

WASHINGTON, Mar. 24.—(INS)—Two spokesmen for the nation's property owners told congress today that rent controls are responsible for the housing shortage.

The spokesmen urged the house banking committee, now studying extension of rent controls for another year, to consider either complete removal of ceilings or a 15 per cent overall rent rise.

The witnesses were Arthur W. Binns, president of the National Home and Property Foundation, and Herbert U. Nelson, executive vice-president of the National Association of Real Estate Boards.

Binns declared that "economic discrimination" is being practiced against landlords.

He presented figures showing that the average living costs of property owners have risen 64 per cent since January, 1941, while residential rents have gone up only four per cent.

HOMECOMING PARTY

Fifteen children and grandchildren of Mr. and Mrs. Homer Houck gathered in the home of the latter on Sunday night to welcome Mrs. Houck home from San Francisco, Calif., where she spent the winter months with her son, Ira Houck.

Mrs. Houck went to the coast for her health, which is much improved. She was met in Chicago Saturday morning by Mr. Houck, who accompanied her back to New Castle. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Earl Collins, Mrs. Marion Boulden, Mrs. Charles Sanford and Mrs. William Houck.

EAST NEW CASTLE NOTES

Janet Karki is confined to her home with illness.

Mrs. James Holsafel, who underwent an operation in the Jameson hospital last week, is doing nicely and is able to be back at her teaching at Shenango High.

Mrs. Ted Watson is confined to her home with illness.

Mrs. Minner, who has been confined to the Jameson hospital, has returned to her home.

Carl Lepisto and William Karki and Rev. Leppaluoto are attending the young people's conference in Detroit.

Mr. and Mrs. Courtney Bunny will move into their own home today.

Four Injured As Auto Leaves Road

Four men suffered injuries shortly after midnight Saturday when a car driven by Albert Tomko, aged 29 years of 200 East 14th street, Homestead, was forced off the highway by another car and crashed into the ditch on route 422, just outside the city.

Tomko sustained multiple lacerations of the scalp. Grant Fike, aged 29 years, of 532 Ammon street, Homestead, sustained contusions and abrasions of the right forearm and a laceration of the nose. Andrew Butka, aged 24 years, of 1026 Ravine street, Homestead, had a laceration behind the right ear, laceration of the right eyelid and abrasions of the nose and face. Francis Mattiko, aged 28, of 940 Ravine street, sustained contusions of the chest.

All were treated at the Jameson Memorial hospital, where they were brought at one o'clock Sunday morning.

What is said to be the largest X-ray photograph in the world was made on a film seven feet by two feet at the Chicago museum of natural history. The subject was an Egyptian mummy in its casket.

Some Underground Leaders Arrested, British Announce

JERUSALEM, Mar. 24.—(INS)—The British Palestine government today announced the arrest of a number of leading underground agents accused in connection with recent acts of violence.

The official announcement said those in custody were arrested in Jerusalem.

Word of the arrests was received as political circles in Jerusalem expressed belief that the high commissioner may recommend an immediate increase in the quota for Jewish immigrants to be admitted into the Holy Land.

The prospect of an enlarged quota was discussed following the departure by air for London of High Commissioner Lieut. Gen. Sir Alan Cunningham and Lieut. Gen. G. H. A. MacMillan, commander of British troops in Palestine.

Seek Plan To Avert Threatened Telephone Strike

WASHINGTON, Mar. 24.—(INS)—Government labor experts today are considering calling upon leaders and top officials of the American Telephone & Telegraph Co. into conference to avert a threatened national telephone strike April 7.

Assistant Secretary of Labor John W. Gibson plans to confer in New York this week with Bell system officials. He is expected to meet with C. F. Craig, operating vice president for AT&T.

Gibson, Craig and Joseph A. Beirne, president of the Independent National Federation of Telephone Workers, succeeded in preventing a communications tieup a year ago in an all-night parley which ended only minutes before the strike deadline.

National State and District Officers Attend Commercial Travelers Dinner At Cathedral

United Commercial Travelers of America held their annual banquet and initiatory service in the Cathedral Saturday evening with a program beginning at 6:30 o'clock, when a delicious turkey dinner was served. The ritualistic work was exemplified by the recently organized New Castle council degree team in full dress as follows: John Loner, director; J. H. Elmore, past counselor; H. D. Collins, senior sentinel; Earl M. Brookover, page; James R. Francis, conductor. Secretary J. W. Anderson and grand executive committee man, Wyatt R. Campbell, aided in completion of plans for the dinner and program.

During the year over 100 new members were accepted into the organization, with many present at the dinner on Saturday evening. Past Supreme Counselor Daly spoke on fraternalism and brotherhood, stating that these two forces were necessary today.

Out-of-town guests present at the dinner included Past Supreme Counselor James G. Daly, editor of the organization's national magazine; Grand Counselor Charles M. Davis of Indiana; Grand Conductor P. W. Bachman, Lewistown; L. E. Seavy, Warren, Pa.; Robert R. MacLachlan, Indiana, Pa.; H. H. Boyd and W. Chriss Musick of Sharon; Charles Frederick, New Brighton; G. C. VanOrsdal, Warren, O.; J. R. GET DOWN TO WAGES

PITTSBURGH, Mar. 24.—(INS)—The CIO-United Steelworkers negotiating committee and U. S. Steel Corp., today were expected to get down to brass tacks and talk wages soon, following House and Senate action in passing bills outlawing portal-to-portal pay.

Sources close to the negotiations admitted that congressional action on the portal-pay question will tend to bring wage talk into the two-months old pail. A joint congressional committee will meet this week to work out differences in the bills.

"Big Steel" informed the union when contract talks opened January 24 that it could not consider the Steelworkers' demand for a "substantial" increase until Congress had indicated the course it would take on the portal question.

K. Pulaskis Retain Polish Championship, Defeat Falcons 58-51

Zubkowsky, Paine And Wasik Stars For Pulaski "Big Five" Sunday

Over 700 Fans See Sunday Battle At Arena Floor, Falcons Fight Hard

K. Pulaski "Big Five" city-county Polish basketball champions last year, retained their championship Sunday at the spacious Arena floor by defeating the strong Polish Falcons, 58 to 51, as over 700 fans looked on and cheered for their favorites. Al Gonet and his Pulaskis are being toasted today as real champs.

It was a much better game Sunday than a week ago, when the Pulaskis hung a 57 to 39 defeat on the Falcons. The Miller avenue boys had a much better team on the floor yesterday and gave the champions a tussle all the way.

Plenty of Stars
There were plenty of stars in the game, big John Zubkowsky, Freddy Paine and Stan Wasik doing the bulk of the Pulaski's scoring, while for the Falcons the big guns were Eddie "Cash" Koszela, Tom Carey, George Adams and Francis Pizer.

The Pulaski grabbed a first period lead of 11 to 5, but the Falcons roared back to make it 27-20 at the half end, the Oaklanders leading by seven points. The Falcons gave the Pulaskis a scare in the third period, the score standing at 31-30. The third period closed with the K. P. team leading, 42-38.

Fast Fourth Period
It was a nip-and-tuck battle in the final period, the score with four minutes left to play being 47-41 with the K. P. team in the van. With two minutes left to play it was 52-47.

The Falcons' best period was the third, when they outscored the champions, 18 to 15, in a swell comeback effort, but just lacked the strength of the Oaklanders. The Pulaskis were tired after playing three games Saturday at Hubbard, Coach Al Gonet using three Westminister stars, Fred Paine, Don Heddlston and "Diz" Nelson to help out, plus the addition of big Stan Wasik, former Titan pivot star.

Canton Here Sunday
The fans enjoyed the two-game series immensely. It was a parade of basketball stars, pitting their prowess against each other. It was announced that the K. Pulaski "Big Five" will battle the famous Canton colored Cushies

Favor Kentucky To Defeat Utah

NEW YORK, Mar. 24.—(INS)—Kentucky is an 11½ point favorite to retain its national invitation to the final of the post-season basketball class at Madison Square Garden tonight.

The Wildcats, despite stories of internal dissension, look too tall and fast for the game Utes, who are at their best in post-season engagements.

Winners May Meet
The final of the other current cage tourney, the N. C. A. A., will be staged tomorrow night with Holy Cross, the eastern champion, facing Oklahoma, the western titleholder. Holy Cross ran away from City College Saturday night while the Okies were nosing out Texas in a tough one.

There is a possibility that the winners of the two tournaments may meet at the garden Thursday night in a game to decide the national championship.

ANNOUNCE SENIOR TOURNEY PAIRINGS

Jimmy Dart, director of the senior cage tourney which gets under way Wednesday night at the George Washington High floor, today announced the first night pairings.

7 p. m., Columbus club vs. New Wilmington Legion.
8 p. m., V. P. W. vs. New Castle Lions.
9 p. m., Shenango St. "Y" vs. South Side Lions.
10 p. m., Milton A. C. vs. Gus Big Five.

First round will be completed Friday night and the quarter-finals will be staged Monday, March 31.

CASTLEWOOD TEAM MEETING TONIGHT

All persons interested in the Castlewood baseball team, which plans to compete in the county league this season, are asked to be present at a meeting scheduled for tonight in the school house beginning at 7:30.

Plans for the season will be discussed and a new manager will be chosen.

H. R. "Ike" Gilbert, Penn State's assistant graduate manager, now holds two offices in the Intercollegiate Boxing Association. The long-time secretary-treasurer has been elected vice-president for the forth-coming year.

Pulaskis Sweep Hubbard Honors

Win Three Games Saturday And Ohio Championship; Cop Many Awards

Powerful K. Pulaski cagers won their second tournament of the season Saturday night at Hubbard Ohio, defeating the Westinghouse Transportation five in the final, 47-36. The K. P.'s also took the trophy at the East Liverpool matches earlier.

The championship game Saturday climaxed a full day of basketball for the Gonet passers, as they whipped the Royal Oaks in the 4-15 tilt, 43-27, and tripped the Sharon A. B. A. quint in the 8:30 tussle, 61-45.

Andrews Is Ace
Billy Andrews led the locals to their final victory, banking in 17 points, followed by John Zubkowsky with 10. The K. P.'s led at the half, 27-19 and outscored their opponents in the final frames 20-17.

For taking the honors, the Pulaskis received the 32 inch trophy for the winning team, and were awarded individual six inch gold trophies for each team member.

Big Johnny Zubkowsky was chosen the most valuable player, and ended as the high scorer in the games with 64 points. He was also placed on the all-tourney team along with Vince Kelley and "Pat" Patterson.

The team was rated the best dressed and the best sports among the entries, also.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

HERE AND THERE—SPORTS
RUSSELL BAXTER, local fighter, and Charley Hayes, of Detroit, are scheduled to meet tonight in the semi-final to the Danny Kaplow-Jimmie Doyle bout in the Cleveland Arena. Hayes scored a technical knockout over Mike Berskovich in Cleveland, recently. Mike scored a knockout over Baxter in Youngstown. Hayes is reputedly a clever boy who can hit. Baxter has trained with Elkins Brothers and other local amateurs in the Jefferson Athletic club and is now at the scene of the battle, awaiting to be called into the ring. . . . Clark Griffith and Herb Pennock, the Senators' and Phillies executives, appear to have something when they insist that if ball players' salaries continue to go skyward it will be the finish of the game. Of course, it doesn't necessarily follow that because Bob Feller receives $70,000 or $80,000 from Cleveland, and Ted Williams a like amount from the Red Sox and Hank Greenberg were to draw a similar sum from Pittsburgh it would wreck those ball clubs. No one man's salary would, but if six or eight players on each club got that much it would cut pretty sharply into a team's income and probably bring about deficits that do not now exist, according to Guy Butler of the Miami Daily News. Not all the 16 major league clubs reap a golden harvest. Not even the Cardinals, world champions, whose ball park is small and additionally, St. Louis is far from being a rabid baseball town. The Browns, Phillies and Athletics, to name three other clubs, are not good money-makers and if they had, or do have later, five or six players drawing down $40,000 to $50,000 apiece they will be hard put to make both ends meet.

Pat Henessey, local steward, is ill with influenza. . . . Melio Bettina wants to fight Joe Louis. Who doesn't? Here & There's opinion, Melio wouldn't have a chance with Joe. . . . Michael Cariss of Springdale is a half brother to Tony Janiro, Youngstown welterweight. . . . Sharon reports Leeland and Yankee Run courses will extend their links to 18 holes in the best condition at this time of year. . . . Joe Walcott has filed a challenge to box Joe Louis, with the National Boxing Association. . . . Crawford County sportsmen were represented Sunday at the Zelenopole meeting of the Pennsylvania Federation of sportsmen. . . . George Abrams and Sugar Robinson will fight May 16, in Madison Square Garden. Robinson's welterweight title will be on the line. . . . Mercer County sportsmen hunted fox Saturday at Clarksville and at Christman's station, Sunday. They killed a gray fox at West Middlesex and a red one at Greenville last week. . . . Sharon Saddle club will move to near the Tam O'Shanter course, New Castle-Sharon highway. . . . Tommy Henrich will move to center field and George McQuinn will play first base when the New York Giants open the season.

JIMMY TROPEA TO MANAGE COLUMBUS BASEBALL TEAM

Former Baltimore Oriole Star Outfielder Chosen At Sunday Sports Meeting

Jimmy Tropea, former star outfielder of the Baltimore Orioles of the International League has been selected by the Christopher Columbus sports committee to manage the 1947 city league entry from the big Mahoningtown club, and promises a championship team.

The former Hillsville county league star was a unanimous choice of the committee to handle the reins this year. An important meeting will take place at the club Wednesday evening at 7:30 o'clock with Fred Shaffer former Louisville American Association star, Jackie Reider, scout for the Boston Braves and Charles P. Walther, president of the city baseball league as special guests.

Sponsor Junior Team
The sports committee at the club has also gone on record as sponsoring a team in the American Junior baseball league, for all boys 12 to 18. Any juniors wanting to tryout for the team are asked to attend the Wednesday session also. Several important matters for the big team will be taken up for discussion and requires the presence of all players who want tryouts this year with the Columbus team.

The signing of Tropea as manager will assure the Columbus team of a veteran leader replacing Joe Frigione the hard-working 1946 manager, who was unable to take the job this year.

New Faces On Fistic Docket

Eight Of 16 In Eight Bouts Battle Here For First Time

TWO HEAVYWEIGHT FIGHTS SCHEDULED

Here's Calendar
Jimmy Zeka, Sharon, vs Ray Bronginer, Youngstown, 155.
Angelo Bellina, Youngstown, vs Lou Standish, Aliquippa, 126.
Johnny Toth, Aliquippa, vs Charley Pastovitch, Youngstown, 160.
Chuck Gibbons, Ellwood City, vs Billy Mategali, Youngstown, 145.
Tommy Dye, Youngstown, vs Moe Shaeffer, Aliquippa, 138.
Guy Elisco, New Castle, vs Sam Santafonte, Struthers, heavyweights.
Elkins Brothers, New Castle, vs Rizleri Ronzi, Youngstown, heavyweights.
Toyn Zanish, Sharon, vs Julius West, Youngstown, 147.

Fighters have been procured, they are in training and everything appears in training for the New Castle Boosters fight show which the Jefferson A. C. will run for 'em March 31 in the Arena. There are no bouts tonight in this city.

On the docket are four heavyweights, featherweights and welterweights and judging from the new faces on the calendar there should be plenty of sock displayed.

The feature, or last bout, will be fought by Julius West of Youngstown and Tony Zanish of Sharon. The latter decided Bill Bradley here while West decided Johnny Toth, the Aliquippa burler.

Two Local Heavies
Elkins Brothers of this city, a footballer by the way, will stage his debut with Rizleri Ronzi of Youngstown, who was decided by Guy Elisco of New Castle but who came back to defeat Bob Blending of Pittsburgh. They're heavies.

Guy Elisco, short, squat and heavy, will take on big Sam Santafonte of Struthers. Sam is as game as they come and this ought to be a punch for punch affair until one or the other is knocked out.

Tommy Dye of Niles decided Danny Benedette of Youngstown at the Elks club last Wednesday, has been mated with Moe Shaeffer of Aliquippa, a first-timer in the Arena.

Johnny Toth of Aliquippa, who couples punch with comedy, has promised to unleash some hitherto unseen tricks when he tackles Charley Pastovitch of Youngstown, also a first timer here. His unorthodox style may bother Charley.

Jimmy Zeka, Sharon, vs Ray Bronginer, Youngstown, at 138 and Angelo Bellina, Youngstown, vs Lou Standish, Aliquippa, at 126, are the other two bouts on the card. They, like several others, will box here for the first time.

The New Castle Boosters hope to earn some money which may be devoted to war memorial purposes. Pastebards have been placed for sale at various places and some members are also disposing of the duets.

Umpires Will Meet Tuesday

Dal Hartman, president of the Lawrence County Umpires association, has called a meeting of the members for Tuesday at 8 o'clock at the "Y". All men who intend to umpire here this summer are asked to attend the meeting.

Bessmer's Rod and Gun club will meet Wednesday evening in the I. O. O. F. hall at 8 p. m., at which time an election of officers will be held.

All members are urged to be prompt in attending the session.

Tonight's Winner Meets Robinson
Danny Jailow And Jimmy Doyle Clash In Final; Baxter Meets Hayes

CLEVELAND, Mar. 24.—(INS)—It's even-Stephen, take your pick, for the winner of the Jimmy Doyle-Danny Kaplow struggle tonight at the Cleveland Arena. To the victor in tonight's 10-rounder goes a May 26 title-shot at welterweight champion Ray Robinson and both battlers are primed to win.

Kaplow, the Brooklyn blaster, a slight underdog in all early betting, has impressed local fight fans to such an extent that many Doyle followers are switching from the camp of the Los Angeles boxer.

North County Loop Meeting Tonight
The North County baseball league is holding a meeting this evening at 7:30 o'clock at Carm's Place on West Washington street. It was announced.

Phillies' manager Ben Chapman is highly pleased with the hurling of Rookie Southpaw Dick Koehler, who appears to have clinched a spot on the mound staff.

Baseball Meeting Thursday Evening

City League Managers Will Get Contracts Thursday, Start Drawing Up Schedule

City baseball managers and officials will have a meeting Thursday evening at 7:30 o'clock at Carm's Place on West Washington street. Contracts have been secured and will be given out at the meeting.

A schedule committee having been appointed, will start work on drafting the schedule of games this week, for the 16 teams, the largest number of any baseball league ever to operate in this city.

Considerable interest is being manifested in the coming baseball season.

City Basketball League Planned

There is a movement under way here for a strong city basketball league at the Arena next winter, with 18 teams taking part. Several teams have already made known their desire to join the league, it was announced by Stanley Shaw.

A meeting of the managers or representatives of the various senior basketball teams has been called for next Sunday at 2 o'clock at the Arena office, when an organization will take place.

There has been considerable talk here about a strong city league of the leading teams in New Castle, and the dream of being realized.

Softball Meeting At 'Y' Tuesday

Tuesday evening at 8:15 o'clock at the "Y" a meeting of the city softball league will take place, it was announced today by Rocco P. Viggiano who would like all managers to attend.

The league last year had eight teams, and it is hoped to have at least eight and maybe more this year. Joe Factor, president last year will not hold office this year owing to press of business.

Anthony Conn, vice-president last year is asked to attend the meeting, and also any others who are interested in softball here.

Junior Church League Results

Following are the results in the Junior Church Basketball League at the "Y"—Peoples Mission 31, Third U. P. 17; First Presbyterians 26; First Methodists 10; St. Paul's 28, St. George 21; Trinity 21, Croton 16; Central Presbyterians 18, First Baptist 14; First U. P. won by forfeit over Epworth.

Hi-Aces Meet Castle Titans In Final Tilt

High School Reserves Anxious To Dump Varsity In Tonight's Game

CONSOLATION GAME SLATED FOR 7:30

The junior cage tourney for city-county laurels will end tonight at the Y. M. C. A. floor with a battle between the Hi-Aces (New Castle High Varsity) and the Castle Titans (reserve squad of the school).

A preliminary game will precede the main clash and will involve the East Brook quint against the Gus Little Five, losers in the semi-finals Friday night. This game will begin at 7:30 with the championship tilt scheduled for 8:45.

The fact that the tournament has boiled down to a clash between the Senior High school cagers is reason enough to suppose that tonight's battle will be worth witnessing.

Rivalry between the two teams is intense and both claim that they have the artillery to snatch the title. The game should be hard-fought and packed with thrills.

Trophy for Winner
Winner of the game will be awarded a handsome trophy and the five members of the team will be given statuettes. Most valuable player of the tourney will also be announced and a cup presented to the player.

The Hi-Aces have not been extended in any of their games thus far, knocking off the Shenango High Seniors 48-17, the Dewey A. C. 51-15 and the East Brook Crows 62-33. The Titans have disposed of the Sharks 47-18, the Yellow Jackets 46-20 and Gus Little Five 33-27.

Lineups Set
The Aces will probably start Don Black and Jimmy Janacone at the forwards. "Chuck" Rea, center, Tony Ciaella and Don Waters, guards. Ready for action are Spears, Gray, Fullerton, Reed and Sampson.

The Titans will counter with "Red" Richards and Jimmy Pears, forwards, Al Tate, center, Al Marotuli and Gene Gribble, guards. Reserves are Irwin, Goad and Clarke.

Doors will open at 6:45 and a small charge will be made for admission. A fine crowd is expected to see the champion crowned.

Union Varsity To Battle Faculty

Tuesday evening at the Union high gym, the Union high varsity team will battle the Union Faculty members, in their annual setto. The game gets under way at 8:30 following a 7 o'clock preliminary game.

INLAI D LEATHERERS

PARIS

Inlaid like fine jewelry. Here is a Paris Belt so new and different that it's bound to make a hit. Constructed of top quality solid cowhide bridle, inlaid like fine jewelry with selected aniline cowhide insert in contrasting color.

The feature is a smart buckle designed of brass and inlaid in the same fine leather used in the Belt itself. This smart Paris innovation is in a class by itself.

You will find a wide selection of fine Paris Belts on sale today.

DUTIES OF MAID-OF-HONOR

"Please give me the duties of the maid-of-honor—the correct reply to a formal wedding invitation—correct kind of clothes for guest to wear."

Answer: She may, if she so desires, give her assistance to the bride's family before the ceremony by helping with the listing of the bride's gifts and arranging them for inspection, giving her suggestions and aid in decorating the house as well as helping with the many other details incidental to the wedding. She usually organizes a shower for the bride. On the wedding day, she should arrive at the bride's home in sufficient time to assist the bride in getting ready for the wedding. When the processional is about to begin, she should give the final touches to the bride's train and veil. During the ceremony, she should hold the bride's bouquet, and after the ceremony, she should again arrange the bride's train and veil before the recessional starts.

Reply to formal wedding invitation:

Mr. and Mrs. John Smith accept with pleasure Mr. and Mrs. Robert Jones' kind invitation for Saturday the fifth of April at four o'clock.

If you cannot attend, substitute for the second line: "regret that they are unable to accept".

omit the time, which is inserted only in an acceptance. Clothes for guests: To any simply-conducted wedding, guests may dress informally, even if the bride party is in formal attire. For women: Street-length afternoon dress, hat and gloves. For men: Business suits. Only at the most formally-conducted day time wedding is formal attire required for both men and women. Evening weddings require dinner or evening clothes in accordance with the formality of the occasion. Should the bride dress in traveling clothes, street-length clothes for women and business suits for men are entirely correct.

Present your problems to Miss Markel who will promptly mail personal replies to questions from readers inclosing stamped, self-addressed envelopes.

Tomorrow—Table Manners.

Police Are Seeking Girl's Assailant

Police were searching today for a motorist who attacked an East Side girl on Atlantic avenue at 10:30 p. m. Sunday and fled after she succeeded in breaking away from him. The young woman had been to a Seventh ward picture show and accepted a ride in his car up-town.

He stopped the car in Atlantic avenue, made advances which she repulsed, after which a struggle began. She succeeded in escaping from the car but he got out of the machine, choked and threw her to the ground.

Being husky and desperate, she succeeded in breaking from his grasp and fled, after which he got into his car and drove toward West Washington street.

She exhibited bruises on her throat where she had been choked. Her clothing was torn and face bruised.

The young woman provided police with his description.

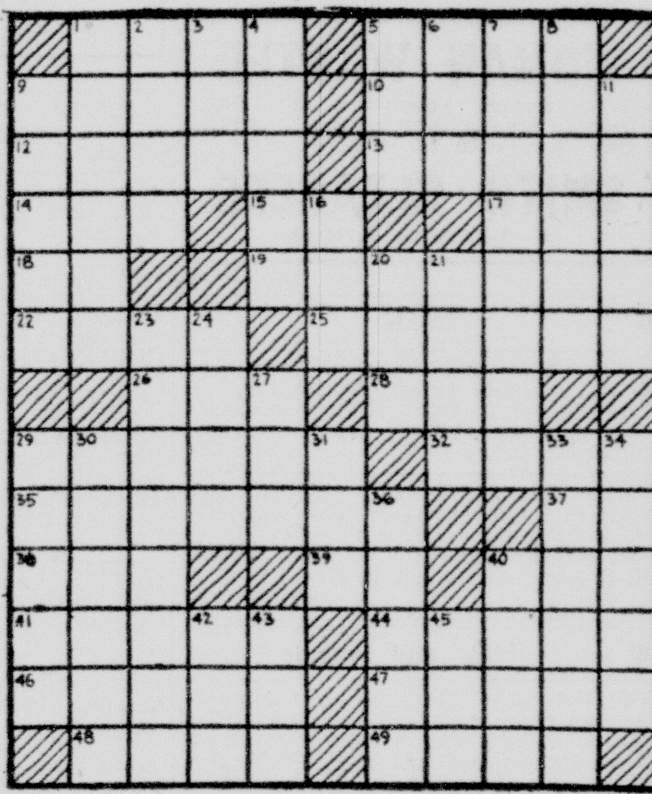

PLANT FIRE GUTTED
COATESVILLE, Pa., Mar. 24.—(INS)—Damage was estimated at $300,000 today in the wake of a blaze that gutted the General Paper company mill at Beaver Dam, five miles south of Coatesville.

Caused by the blaze, which spread quickly through the three-story stone structure, was not determined. A locomotive, dispatched to a siding at the mill, hauled four carloads of raw pulp out of reach of the flames. The firm manufactures paper towels.

Probe Death Of Pittsburgh Man

PITTSBURGH, Mar. 24.—(INS)—An autopsy was ordered today to determine the cause of the death of an aged Pittsburgh man who collapsed at his telephone as police informed him his wife was being held in their custody.

Police reported they found 80-year-old Edward Martin dead beside his telephone with the receiver still in his hand. A police matron said she called Martin to inform him that his wife, Elsie, 65, had been found wandering the street in a dazed condition.

The matron said her conversation with the aged man ended abruptly and silence followed. Investigating officers found Martin, apparently dead from a heart attack.

However, Police Lieut. Sylvester C. Stoehr ordered an autopsy after he discovered cuts on the victim's head and blood on a pillow.

Aged Woman Dies Of Monoxide Fumes

PITTSBURGH, Mar. 24.—(INS)—An aged woman died and a 19-month-old boy and his father were revived from carbon monoxide fumes today in their home in nearby Swissvale, police reported.

Police said Mrs. Anna Marshall, 72, great-grandmother of the baby, John Johnston, died from the effects of a gas heater.

Dr. L. E. Brougher revived the baby and his father, who collapsed after summoning aid.

The baby's mother, Mrs. Clara Johnston, was in Columbia hospital awaiting an operation, and was not told of the tragedy.

TO ERECT HOSPITAL

PITTSBURGH, Mar. 24.—(INS)—Pittsburgh's growing medical center today was promised a new ten million dollar neuro-psychiatric hospital for treatment of war veterans of Western Pennsylvania.

The Veterans administration announced the 1250-bed hospital will be built overlooking the Allegheny river near the city tuberculosis hospital at Leech farm.

Previously the Veterans administration approved construction of a fifteen million dollar, 1248-bed general hospital near the University of Pittsburgh.

Site of the neuro-psychiatric hospital was approved because of the nearness of the Pittsburgh medical center, according to the VA announcement.

Soon after the Reformation, there was an inclination in England to name children after the vernacular titles of holy days. In 1675, at Bovey Tracey, Devon, there was a child named Passton and another in 1712 at Hemlock. Passton is not an uncommon name in old English registers.
